

THE DAILY STATE SENTINEL is sent by all the early morning express and freight trains, and delivered to subscribers in adjacent towns about the same time it is distributed in this city. The earliest readers at Anderson from the Capital of Indiana, to get the news of the day from six to twelve hours before they receive it through papers published elsewhere. News dealers and carriers in any of the towns on railroads centering at Indianapolis, will be supplied with the SENTINEL on as good terms as any other paper. Clubs for the Daily will be supplied at Agents' rates. Orders are solicited.

Proceedings of the State Convention.

The extra edition of the Sentinel, containing the proceedings of the 28th of January Convention, being exhausted, and to meet the additional orders to publish another edition it larger type. Those of our friends who desire to order them will please do so promptly.

Price $1 per hundred.

No better document can be circulated to disseminate the public mind of the erroneous impressions that unscrupulous papers and politicians have attempted to create in regard to the character of the Convention and its action upon the most important issues now before the country.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

This body convened last night, an adjourned meeting.

Present—His Honor, the Mayor, and a quorum.

The City Attorney reported against granting the prayer of the petition of the Sisters of Providence, asking to have the property known as St. John's Academy exempted from taxation. He decides that the Legislature, by its act of last session, did not intend to exempt private school property from taxation.

Also, against refunding to Jacob Coffman the amount of assessment for improving a private alley.

MARION COMMON PLEAS.

In this Court, Judge Ray presiding, all the civil cases for the 7th day (yesterday) were called, and all the business set for hearing up to the noon adjournment was disposed of. In the afternoon denunciations were heard. Last night the Judge was occupied in hearing proceedings in aid of execution in a special case. This Court last week transacted a greater amount of business than has ever before been done in the same time in this county. During the week Court met at 8 1/2 o'clock and adjourned at 12 1/2 o'clock; met at 1 1/2 o'clock and adjourned at 6 1/2 o'clock; met at 7 o'clock P.M. and adjourned at 10 o'clock. The Court will hold some five weeks longer.

METROPOLITAN HALL.

The "Octoroon" was performed last evening before a full and appreciative audience. It was unquestionably an interesting piece, and was remarkably well performed. Miss Kimberly invested the character of "Zoe" with all the beauty the author intended her to possess. We understand the piece will not be repeated after this evening, therefore we advise all to go and see the "Octoroon."

NOTICE.

Notice to Indiana Troops.

QUARTERMASTER GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT, INDIANA VOLUNTEERS.

THE UNDERSIGNED TAKES THIS METHOD OF ADVISING the Indiana troops that there yet remain in his department a large stock of Blankets, Comforts, Woolen and Cotton Goods, and other articles, and the donations of citizens from all parts of the State, for distribution to such of our soldiers as need them. Letters have been addressed to many of the Colonels and Regimental Quartermasters inviting them to order supplies of these goods. Some have done so, and the goods have been forwarded. Some have done so, and the goods have been forwarded. Some have done so, and the goods have been forwarded.

THE EASTERN PAPERS.—Mr. Frank Ratti delivers all papers published east of this city promptly to all subscribers. We particularly commend Mr. Ratti to all those who wish to subscribe for a newspaper outside of Indianapolis. Everybody ought to subscribe for the Sentinel, however, and Mr. Ratti will be happy to take their money for one of the best newspapers published.

WANTED.

WANTED.—A man for jewelry or silversmith. They charge nothing for as much engraving as you want.

Go to W. H. Talbot & Co's for jewelry or silversmith. They charge nothing for as much engraving as you want.

We yesterday saw Zollinger's spectacles found upon the battle field near Somerset, Ky., by Charles Felix, of Lafayette, a member of the 10th Indiana Col. Macon.

We understand that a splendid masquerade ball will be given at Washington Hall on the 3rd of March. No doubt the beauty of our German ladies will turn out en masse.

DEBILIS, BILIOUS, CHOLIC, & CO.—Vinegar & Soda are closing out their large assortment of thick sole shoes at very low prices. Ladies now is the time to buy shoes cheap.

Low.—Three billion emerald letters, "I. H. S." The H with a cross resting on its bar. The letter will be liberally rewarded by leaving them at the jewelry store, No. 1, Bates House.

The style of engraving initials only on jewelry or silver plate is now obsolete. All articles worth marking at all should have the full name and the date also. W. H. Talbot & Co. keep up with the styles and engrave free of charge all articles sold by them.

POOR.—A pocket-book, evidently belonging to a soldier. Among other papers it contained the discharge from the United States service of Francis Tucks. A lady left it with us, and the owner can have it by calling on us.

MASONIC NOTICE.—A special meeting of Marion Lodge, No. 35, for work, will be held at 7 o'clock this evening, at the Grand Masonic Hall. Punctual attendance is requested.

FRANCIS KING, Secretary.

Hay's Academy will open Monday, the 10th inst., in the rooms under Masonic Hall, fronting on Tennessee street. 6-4.

From Rev. Mr. McMillen, Pastor of Roberts Chapel, Indianapolis, October 6, 1887.

Dr. C. W. ROBERTS.—Dear Sir, I would use your Blood Purifier for a nervous affection, from which I have suffered much at times. While it is pleasant to the taste, it certainly has a powerful effect upon the system. Please accept my thanks for your kind regards, and believe me, Yours, J. W. T. McMILLAN.

From the Richmond Dispatch, Jan. 28.

Weights, Measures and Coins.

Galat, in his history of representative government, well remarks that "the age in which we have taken too much pains to seek guarantees in physical force, and has neglected to seek for them in the power of moral ideas; and De Tocqueville, pursuing the same thought, has said that "to constitute society, a great many people should think alike on a great many subjects." The Northwest has adhered to the Union because its moral ideas coincided with those of the North, and differed from those of the South, although all its pecuniary interests were tied up with ours; and the Northeast was, and must continue to be, its greedy and rapacious taxmaster.

Now, there are no subjects so often or so seriously occupy the thoughts, attention and business habits of a people, as their weights, measures and coins; and when these are of values and denominations peculiar to themselves, they go far to distinguish and mould the people employing them into a distinct nationality. It will be hard to cut off our trade and intercourse with the North after peace is restored, and ruinous not to do so. Changing the language or the measure of the most efficient barrier that has yet been suggested to prevent a renewal of business and social relations with that section, which if renewed will make our hard earned independence a mere shadow of a name.

The adoption of a decimal system of weights, measures and coins, based upon some fixed, exact and immutable standard, like that of France, was recommended to the Mason Commercial Convention in January, 1887, and the Commercial Enfranchisement of the South, which essay will be found in the October and November numbers of De Bow's Review.

The convention recommended the whole essay to the attention of Congress; and Congress will probably take action on the part relating to weights, measures and coins, at the ensuing session. Many able pens besides that of the philosophic author, have since been employed in advocacy of this measure, but it is a very dry, recondite and abstruse subject, though one of us of vital and pressing importance.

We would add a single suggestion to the many that have been made by others. The proposed measure would facilitate trade and intercourse with France and other Mediterranean nations, and thus we should acquire new thoughts, new manners and customs and a new and distinct civilization, compounded of many materials and derived from many sources, instead of being mere imitators or copyists of England or New England.

We would cultivate the most friendly relations with England, but not when her objects, ends and aims are in any way antagonistic to ours, and might become a mere parasite of hers instead of a distinct, separate and independent people.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

CAUTION.

The market is full of imitations, represented to be the same as "BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES," which are in most cases productive of positive injury. Many dealers will recommend inferior preparations and lower priced articles, affording more profit to themselves. Ask for and OBTAIN ONLY "BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES," which by long experience have proved their value, having secured the sanction of physicians, chemists and testimonials from eminent men throughout the country.

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES, when allowed to dissolve slowly in the mouth, have a direct influence to the mucous lining of the windpipe into the Bronchial Affection, irritation and gives relief in Coughs, Colds, and the various throat affections to which public speakers and singers are liable. 60-11-41/92
